STATEMENT OF OBJECTS AND REASONS

The National Co-operative Development Corporation was established in March, 1963, under the National Co-operative Development Corporation Act, 1962. The basic objective of this Corporation is to plan, promote and finance programmes for processing, storage and marketing of agricultural produce and certain other notified commodities, on co-operative basis.

2. In pursuance of certain observations made by the Public Accounts Committee (Fourth Lok Sabha), in their 106th Report in regard to the need for the continuance of the National Co-operative Development Corporation and the de-officialisation of the co-operative movement, the Government of India had appointed an Expert Committee to examine the working, objectives and future set up of the National Co-operative Development Corporation. The Committee assessed the performance of the National Co-operative Development Corporation and came to the conclusion that the Corporation had made significant contribution towards developing the potential of the programmes entrusted to it, which have recorded striking progress in recent years. The Committee accordingly not only recommended the continuance of the National Co-operative Development Corporation, but also the broad-basing of its functions, activities and organisational set up. The major recommendations of the Expert Committee are as follows:

(i) The activities of the National Co-operative Development Corporation should be extended to co-operative dairy, poultry and fishery programmes, specially designed for assisting the vulnerable sections of the community. The activities of the Corporation may also include helping the tribal people in the collection, processing and marketing of minor forest produce, through appropriate co-operatives, especially designed for them.

(ii) Organisational set up of the National Co-operative Development Corporation should reflect the nature of its functions, the types of activities sponsored and the institutions and authorities it has to deal with. It should have a General Council with larger representation to States, including the State Governments and State level co-operative institutions and national level co-operative institutions, and also a Board of Management, in place of the existing Executive Committee. The Corporation will function through the General Council and the Board of Management.

(iii) Apart from providing financial assistance to co-operative programmes through the State Governments, the National Co-operative Development Corporation should participate in the share capital of, and provide loans and grants to, the national and regional co-operative institutions. It may also provide finance and re-finance to other types of co-operatives, on the guarantee of the State Governments concerned, or, in the case of co-operatives in the Union territories, on the guarantee of the Central Government.

(iv) The National Co-operative Development Corporation be enabled to borrow from the open market, on Central Government's guarantee, if necessary, and also from other sources.

3. The Bill seeks to amend the National Co-operative Development Corporation Act, 1962, for broad-basing the activities and the constitution of the Corporation and also for diversifying the sources of its funds, in the light of the recommendations of the Expert Committee.

NEW DELHI;

ANNASAHEB P. SHINDE.

The 24th November, 1973

FINANCIAL MEMORANDUM

Under section 12 of the National Co-operative Development Corporation Act, 1962, the Central Government pays to the National Co-operative Development Corporation, each year, funds by way of grant and also by way of loan, having regard to its actual requirements. Section 13 of the Act provides for the creation of a Fund into which all the moneys received by the Corporation are credited. The Corporation has also a corpus of its own funds. The resources of the fund are utilised, inter alia, for advancing loans and granting subsidies to the State Governments.

2. With the proposed extension of the activities of the National Co-operative Development Corporation to cover co-operative programmes in the field of dairy, poultry, fishery and collection, processing and marketing of minor forest produce, by clause 8, read with clause 3, of the Bill, the National Co-operative Development Corporation will, inter alia, provide financial assistance to the State Governments for undertaking co-operative programmes for processing, storage and marketing of dairy, poultry, fishery and minor forest produce. The moneys required by the Corporation for the purposes of the Act, will be found by it, partly from its own resources and partly out of the loans and subsidies received from the Central Government from the Consolidated Fund of India. The amount of financial assistance to be so given by the Corporation will vary from year to year, depending upon the progress in the formulation and implementation of various co-operative programmes with which the Corporation is concerned. It will not be possible to give any precise estimate of annual expenditure that will have to be incurred from the Consolidated Fund of India for this purpose. However, such expenditure is not likely to exceed rupees 20 crores in a year during the Fifth Plan period. No non-recurring expenditure is likely to be incurred.

3. In terms of clause 11 of the Bill, the Central Government may guarantee the repayment of moneys borrowed by the Corporation. Although no precise estimate of the liability involved in such guarantee is possible at this stage, the liability arising out of such guarantee is not likely to exceed rupees 4 crores in a year during the Fifth Plan period.

4. The Central Government may also provide guarantee to the repayment of the loans that may be made available by the Corporation to the co-operatives in the Union territories as proposed in clause 8 of the Bill. The amount involved in the Central Government's liability will depend on the requirements of co-operative programmes in Union territories. It is not possible to give a precise estimate of the amount that may be involved in such guarantee, but the liability arising out of such guarantee is not likely to exceed rupees 1 crore in a year during the Fifth Plan period.

MEMORANDUM REGARDING DELEGATED LEGISLATION

Sub-section (7) of section 3, as proposed to be substituted by clause 4 of the Bill, seeks to empower the Corporation to provide by regulations the sitting fees which the members of the General Council shall be entitled to receive for attending any meeting of that Council. Sub-section (4) of section 10, as proposed to be substituted by clause 9 of the Bill, seeks to empower the Corporation to make regulations with regard to the time of the meetings of the Board and the procedure with regard to the transaction of business at its meetings.

2. The matters with regard to which the Corporation is proposed to be empowered to make regulations are matters of detail. The delegation of legislative power is, therefore, of a normal character.

S. L. SHAKDHER,
Secretary-General
